

Surface residence time at the deployment footprint

~89% of the ocean flushes a treated patch within a few months (dark); retention is confined to rare recirculation cores (bright). Surface residence is a near-universal verification constraint.